An Invitation

A Letter from the President

Do you want to see democracy in action? Do you enjoy watching or even being a participant in a debate on the pros and cons of a resolution presented for a vote by the constituency? If the answer is yes, or if you just enjoy the opportunity to be with your faculty colleagues, please mark your calendars and plan to attend the annual Dallas Community College Faculty Association Convention on Friday, November 9, 2012, 2:00 p.m. at the Commissioner's Court, 411 Elm Street in the West End.

As a member of your college's faculty association you have a vested interest in the goals and performance of the DCCFA Faculty Council. The Council is composed of the Faculty Association Presidents of Brookhaven College, Cedar Valley College, Eastfield College, El Centro College, Mountain View College, North Lake College, and Richland College. As your elected officers, they represent you at District meetings with the Chancellor, the Vice President's Council, the Chancellor's Staff, and at a multitude of meetings on your campus. At the Convention you will receive a status report from the Council, as well as reports from each of the following committees: Instructional Goals/Academic Freedom, Political Information, Communication, Economic and Faculty Welfare, and Membership.

Prior to the business session, the Convention will be addressed by Frank Hill, the long-time and legendary attorney for the DCCFA. Mr. Hill, whose biography is featured in this Advance, is a dynamic speaker who annually is invited to speak at the TCCTA Leadership Conference. His topic for our convention will focus on Academic Freedom.

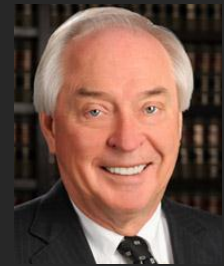

When the gavel signals the conclusion of the convention, join your colleagues at a post convention reception at the Y. O. Ranch, a few short blocks from the Commissioner's Court. Enjoy heavy hors d'oeuvres, a cash bar, and the opportunity to wind down after a busy week.

Looking forward to seeing you at the convention.

Ray Attner
President, Dallas Community College Faculty Association

Guest Speaker

Frank Hill

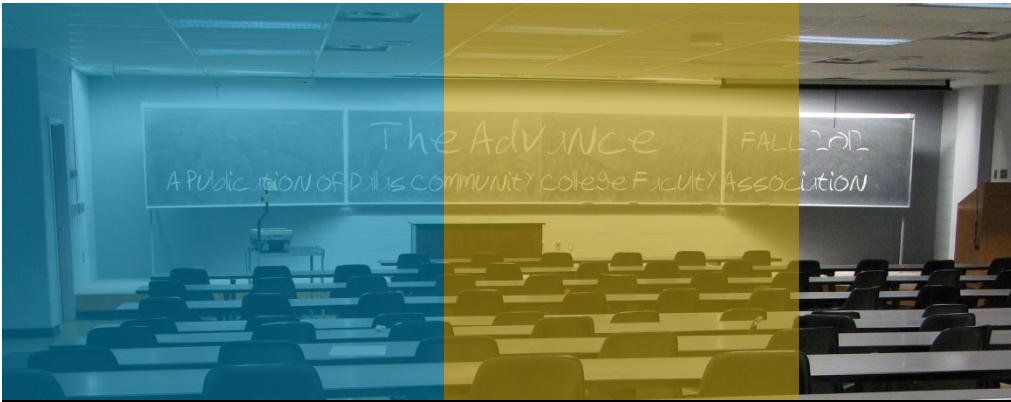

Mr. Hill has tried over 300 jury trials in state and federal courts, as well as many arbitrations. Some recent cases of note include his representation of a business client-plaintiff in a complex commercial litigation case in a four week jury trial in Tarrant County, Texas, in 2006. That trial concluded with a jury verdict in favor of the client in excess of three million dollars (with exemplary damages in excess of two million dollars). Mr. Hill also recently successfully defended a client in a multi-million dollar contract dispute involving a real estate development.

In addition, he recently successfully defended a specific performance and damage case arising from a multi-million dollar real estate transaction. In 2009, he recovered a $2.6 million verdict in a real estate jury trial in Fort Worth, half of which was for punitive damages.
